

BESTARM

ENGINEERING FIRM

Montreal, February 21st 2008

Madam, Sir,

We are pleased to accept the participation of your company in the project to develop an affordable artificial arm.

The intention of our company, creating this contest is to enable designers and engineers interested to join our efforts to design a prosthetic arm.

This prosthesis must be built by unskilled workers using basic tools and techniques in areas of armed conflict.

Part of the design of this prosthesis is already finished and the prototype of this section will be available soon.

We entrust the task to design and produce a prototype of the last section that will dock with the already designed part.

You will find in the technical file that follows all the necessary information :

- Specifications ;
- Diagrams ;
- The technical drawings of the part already designed.

I hope that your contribution to this project is the basis for future design partnerships between our respective companies.

Accept, Madam, Sir, my best regards.
